- I. Intended Purpose and Sharing of Space
- II. Public Use of Meeting Rooms
- III. Public Use of Study Rooms
- IV. Public Use of Racine History Room

I. Intended Purpose and Sharing of Space

The Racine Public Library Public Use of Rooms Policy supports the American Library Association's Library Bill of Rights which states in part, "Libraries which make exhibit spaces and meeting rooms available to the public they serve should make such facilities available on an equitable basis, regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use." The Racine Public Library is committed to racial equity and social justice. Our Library strives to maintain welcoming and inclusive public spaces. Meeting and Study Rooms are heavily used and the Public Use of Rooms Policy aims to support equitable distribution of a shared community resource.

Meeting Rooms, Study Rooms, and the Racine History Room are made available to the public regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use, and use of the Library's rooms does not constitute the Library's endorsement or advocacy of a meeting's content or an individual/group. Public Use of Library rooms may include content that may be unorthodox, unpopular with the majority, or controversial in nature.

The Library retains the right to monitor all meetings, programs and events conducted on the premises to ensure compliance with Library regulations. Racine Public Library's Rules of Behavior Policy applies to programs or meetings held within meeting and study rooms. Use of meeting and study rooms should not interfere with the normal functions of the Library. Library staff will have free access to rooms at all times. The rooms may not be used for private social functions. The Executive Director shall be responsible for developing and implementing rules and procedures governing use of the meeting rooms, Study rooms and Racine History Room. Exceptions to the Public Use of Rooms Policy may be made at the discretion of the Executive Director.

II. Public Use of Meeting Rooms

Meeting rooms are intended for larger groups than study rooms, and therefore have additional usage requirements. Non-profit groups and organizations, and business, corporate, for-profit organizations and the general public may be eligible to use the meeting rooms as long as no fee is charged for attendance, no sales or solicitations of customers or the public occur, and no advertisement of services or products takes place. The organization may have information available about its purpose, but this is not a forum to distribute materials. Any purpose which, in the opinion of the Library Board or its authorized personnel, would be disruptive to the normal operation of the Library will not be allowed. The Library Board reserves the right to deny a return engagement to any party that violates this or any other rule stated in this policy. Permission to use the meeting rooms cannot be granted for activities prohibited under local, state, and/or federal law. The meeting room user must pay the applicable user fee but must not charge an admission fee to the public. Persons using the meeting rooms must comply with all the rules of behavior set forth in the Rules of Behavior Policy. A person's right to request the use of a meeting room or to attend a meeting or program will not be denied because of origin, age, race, sex, background, views, sexual orientation, disability, membership or lack of membership in an organization or group, or for any other reason. Users of the meeting rooms are required to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act in reasonably accommodating persons with disabilities. Library staff may attend or observe any meeting or program at any time. If the activities are inappropriate or disrupt the public's use of the facilities, the staff has the right to stop the meeting.

Hold Harmless Agreement:

The user must abide by this policy, indemnify the Library from any damage caused by the user, and hold the Library, the City of Racine, and its employees free from any liability. Details about the rules and fee schedules for meeting rooms usage can be found in the Meeting Rooms Rules of Use & Fee Schedule. Contact the Administrative Assistant at 262-636-9170 for more information about or to begin the rental process.

III. Public Use of Study Rooms

The primary purpose of the study rooms is to provide space for small groups and/or individuals to meet and work. Capacities of the rooms may vary. Details about reservation and use of study rooms can be found in the Study Rooms Rules of Use.

IV. Public Use of Racine History Room

The Racine History Room has been established for scholars and researchers needing to use the unique historical Racine materials and resources located in this room.

The Racine History Room equipment and furnishings will be used exclusively for the purpose of local history research and related activities and will be available during normal library hours. The room is not to be used as a study room. Details about the use of the Racine History Room can be found in the Racine History Room Rules of Use.

A. Meeting Rooms Rules of Use & Fee Schedule

City departments and committees may use the meeting rooms to conduct City of Racine business if there is no conflict with the Library's need for the rooms. The Friends of the Library and the Racine Public Library Foundation may use the room for meetings and events, which are for the purpose of supporting the Racine Public Library. No fees will be assessed for these uses.

Because the Library uses the meeting rooms routinely in carrying out the varied activities that support its mandated library service, and because of the lack of supporting staff available to provide a full range of meeting rooms services, the use of the Library meeting rooms by the general public is offered only on a limited, self-service basis. To defray the taxpayers' costs for meeting room reservation and maintenance services, the general public is required to pay a fee to use the library meeting rooms.

Priority

In all cases, the Library's use of the meeting rooms will be given first priority. To that effect, the Library reserves the right to cancel a reservation by the general public with two weeks' notice whenever the rooms are needed for Library purposes. If the Library cancels a reservation by the general public, the Library staff will attempt to find an alternate location in the Library for the meeting. All uses other than by the Library will be granted on a first come, first served basis.

Provision for Use by Minors

Minors (under eighteen years of age) must have the meeting room application signed by a sponsoring adult (at least eighteen years of age) who must also be present at the meeting.

The Library's Rules of Behavior Policy and the Addendum Concerning the Behavior and Supervision of Minors and Children's Areas of the Library are applicable to all attendees, and will be enforced in the event meeting room users bring children and leave them unattended while attending meetings.

Room Availability During Regular Open Hours of the Library

The meeting rooms will be available for use by advance reservation from when the Library opens until fifteen minutes before the library closes.

Monday through Thursday	9:00 a.m. -7:45 p.m.
Friday and Saturday	10:00 a.m.-3:45 p.m.

Room Availability After Regular Open Hours of the Library

The entire Library facility may be used for special events after hours only. A separate fee per hour will be charged for the use of the meeting rooms or areas after hours. An additional fee per hour will be charged for a security guard.

Reservations

To reserve a meeting room, a representative of the reserving group, business, or organization, must fill out a reservation form, sign the hold harmless agreement, pay the user fee and file these items with the Administrative Assistant. The Administrative Assistant and the Executive Director are the only staff members authorized to process meeting room or area reservations and to make the arrangements needed to fill them. Reservation applications, inquiries, or other concerns directed to other Racine Public Library staff members will be referred to the Administrative Assistant and/or Executive Director.

The meeting rooms must be reserved at least two weeks in advance, and may be reserved up to three months in advance.

User Fees

These rates, set by the Library Board, are reviewed periodically and are subject to change by decision of the Board.

1. Emily Lee Room
Seating Capacity: 30
Fee: $25 per meeting
Security officer after hours: $25 per hour
2. Atrium Area
Seating Capacity: 75
Fee: $25 per meeting
Security officer after hours: $25 per hour
3. Special events at the Library, after hours
Fee: $300 per hour
Security officer after hours: $25 per hour

All applicable licenses and permits are the responsibility of the user.

Room Arrangements

The meeting rooms will be set up according to the needs of the user.

Personnel

The Library cannot provide porter service to transport supplies to or from the meeting rooms, nor any custodial help beyond the normal maintenance of the rooms. The Library cannot provide personnel to assist with meetings or programs or to operate equipment.

Storage

The Library cannot provide storage for property of individuals, businesses, or organizations who meet in the library building, and assumes no responsibility for property whether attended or unattended, before, during, or after meeting room use.

Smoke-Free Facility

Because the City of Racine is smoke-free by City Ordinance, smoking is not allowed in any meeting area.

Prohibition of the Use of the Library Name and Address

In any public announcement, the meeting room user is prohibited from using the Racine Public Library's name and/or address in such a way that inference can be made that the Racine Public Library is the host or sponsor of the scheduled event. A copy of the public announcement must be submitted to the Administrative Assistant and approved prior to public release. Allowing a user group to use a meeting room does not constitute the Library's endorsement of the views of the meeting room user, but is a statement of the Library's adherence to the Library Bill of Rights, assuring equitable and non-discriminatory use of the meeting rooms by the public. All signage on Library property is to be placed by the Library (or at least approved by the Library).

Hold Harmless Agreement

The user must abide by all the rules stated in this policy, indemnify the Library from any damage caused by the user, and hold the Library, the City of Racine, and its employees, free from any liability.

C. Study Rooms Rules of Use

Study Room Use Procedures

1. To use the study rooms in the Adult Services Department, one member of each group must be at least fourteen or above and must leave a valid picture I.D. (driver's license, student I.D., etc.) at the Information Services Station. This person is the "responsible user."
2. The staff person will assign the group to a study room and check the condition of the room when the group leaves. The responsible user must tell the staff when they are leaving, and this person will be held accountable for any damage caused to the room.
3. A vacated room will be considered abandoned after 15 minutes and assigned to the next group. Any personal items remaining in the room will be removed to the Lost & Found. Library staff cannot watch over or be held responsible for users' property.

Scheduling

1. First priority in scheduling the use of study rooms is reserved for Library programs and services.
2. Study rooms may be scheduled for two hours per day. The length of these sessions may be extended if no other patrons are waiting to use a room.
3. The staff is responsible for scheduling the use of the study room. Reservations may be made in-person or by calling the Library at 262-636-9217.
4. Reservations may be made up to one month in advance. Patrons will be asked to provide their name, phone number and the date and time they wish to reserve the room.
5. Reserved rooms will be held 15 minutes beyond the reservations time. Patrons who are unable to keep their reservations are asked as a courtesy to contact the Adult Services Desk so that their reserved room may be made available to others. Repeated no-shows may lose their study room privileges.
6. Walk-in patrons may request to use a vacant study room if it is not reserved. Time limits for walk-ins may be less than two hours, depending on the reservation schedule.
7. Users may reserve a study room no more than two times a week.

Behavior

1. Users of the study rooms are responsible for leaving the rooms in a neat and orderly condition.
2. Users may not move tables and chairs into or remove them from a study room. No items shall be taped or tacked to the walls or windows.
3. Windows in rooms may not be covered at any time.
4. Rooms shall remain unlocked during use.
5. The rooms are not soundproof. Please refrain from talking loudly, using personal electronic equipment at such a volume or making ongoing noise that is unreasonably disturbing to other Library users which could be heard outside of the study room.
6. Tobacco products and alcohol are not permitted in the study rooms. Food and covered, non-alcoholic beverages are permitted.

D. Racine History Room Rules of Use

The purpose of the Racine Public Library History Collection is to preserve materials that document the history of Racine and surrounding areas, and to make these materials available to researchers and the general public.

The Racine History Room collection contains current and historical information about the City of Racine, Racine County and Wisconsin. Included in this collection are items published in Racine, about Racine or created by Racine authors, musicians and artists, an archival collection of books published by Western Publishing, minutes of local governing bodies, postcards, newspapers and vertical files which contain information, articles and clippings on local and state happenings. Materials are placed in the Racine History Room collection because they are unique, costly to replace or irreplaceable.

Local Authors

The Racine Public Library will maintain a collection of works by Racine authors. The criteria for who is considered a Racine author is: was born in Racine or has spent a significant portion of their life in Racine and currently has a Racine connection; has written their works while residing in Racine; writes about Racine; has influence in Racine; or has strong Racine roots. The Library reserves the right to determine which authors meet this criterion. Works by Racine authors may be shelved in the Racine History Room, in the circulating collection, or both.

Gifts and Donations

The Racine Public Library welcomes gifts and donations of creative works, artifacts and other memorabilia, which relate in a meaningful way directly to the history of Racine and surrounding areas. Acceptance of such material is subject to the approval of Library staff. Consideration will be given to appropriateness of the material and the ability of the Library to store and house such material in a safe and efficient manner.

Gifts of money, given outright or as memorials, are also accepted and can be designated for the Racine History Room. If the donor has a special area of interest it will be taken into consideration when making the purchase, however, it may be difficult to find items in certain subject areas due to limited publications. In those instances, the library reserves the right to purchase what it deems appropriate. All gift materials are acknowledged and recognized on the item.

Withdrawing Materials

The Racine Public Library reserves the right to withdraw materials according to the Collection Development Policy guidelines.

Room Use

1. The Racine History Room equipment and furnishings will be used primarily for the purpose of local history research and related activities and will be available during normal library hours. The room is not to be used as a study room.
2. Library staff may use the room for proctoring appointments.
3. Patrons wishing to use the room must be at least 18 years old, and must sign-in at the Information Services Station. Patrons will be required to leave a state or government issued photo ID at the Information Services Station while using the collection.
4. Coats, bags, purses, backpacks, etc must be kept behind the Information Services Station, outside of the Racine History Room.
5. Food and drink are not permitted in the Racine History Room.
6. Ink pens of any kind are not permitted while using the materials. Notes must be taken in pencil or by computer.
7. Paper will be allowed at the discretion of the staff.
8. Laptops, cameras and scanners are permitted.
9. Library staff will retrieve materials for patrons.
10. Materials must be handled with care; they must not be leaned on, written on, folded, or otherwise handled in any way likely to cause damage to them.
11. All materials in the Racine History Room are considered reference and may not be taken out of the Racine History Room.
12. There is a copy machine and a scanner located in the Racine History Room. It is the responsibility of the user to follow all copyright laws.
13. Patrons are asked to leave materials on a table after use for staff to shelve.

Racine History Room Log

A user log will record all users of the room. It will indicate that the user agrees to the provisions of this policy and will include the user's signature, date, printed name, address and phone number. The log will be retained electronically.
