What's new at the library?

Native Plant Garden Coming Soon!

Help the library buy native plants! If you've been to the library recently, you might have noticed the circle of wood chips by the book drops. The library is in the process of planting a native garden to support a healthy ecosystem for birds, butterflies and bees. The garden will be going in within the next two weeks with the help of the Root-Pike Watershed Initiative Network. For a $10 donation, two native plants will be purchased and your name will be placed on the sponsorship sign.

How's it Growing?

New Seed Library

We think Wisconsin is finally free of frost warnings! It's not too late to plant a garden from seeds this year. This Spring, the Racine Public Library welcomed the addition of a new seed library to its collection of resources. The seeds are free to take, take one packet or ten, but please only take what you will plant.

Have you used the new seed library? Let us know about it! What do you think? How is your garden growing?
